STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

On account of the unprecedented economic depression prevailing in the country and the very low level of prices reached, the position of the agriculturist has become very deplorable. The prices of agricultural produce and of lands have decreased. The fall in prices is on an average more than 50 per cent of the original value. It is well known that most of the ryots are heavily indebted. They also want money for agricultural operations. The fall in prices makes it impossible for the ryots to discharge their debts which remain at the same old level. The result is the creditors themselves do not get their money and they are forced to go to courts and sell the lands of the ryots. The present state of things leads to the lands being sold at very low prices in the enforced sales, which even ordinarily do not bring a fair price. The creditor is anxious to get cash while the ryots cannot raise it because of the low prices ruling in the market for his property. In many cases the creditors will be very glad to forego a portion of their claims if they can get cash in lump or in a few instalments. The Land Mortgage Banks which are being organized for the purpose of enabling the ryots to redeem their property are unable to help as the properties have depreciated in value and cannot be sufficient security for discharging all the debts which really, taking into consideration the present prices, have appreciated in value. If there is a moderation of these debts on reasonable lines it will be possible for the Land Mortgage Banks to come in and save a large number of ryots. The ryots may also be able to sell a portion of their property and save the rest or in some other way raise money to discharge the debts as moderated. In view of the present conditions and the large number of sales of agricultural lands through courts in the ordinary way and very largely through Official Receivers and in some cases by private sales at very low rates, it is urgent that some measures are adopted to provide for the moderation of the debts and saving the ryots. It is necessary that urgent action should be taken as an emergency measure if even a considerable body of ryots are to be saved and the passing of the lands into the hands of middlemen and professional money-lenders be avoided.

The Central Provinces Government introduced a Debt Conciliation Bill as a Government measure and it was passed in the Council at the end of 1932 and received the assent of His Excellency the Viceroy in March 1933. That Act applies only to agriculturists whose debts exceed Rs. 150. It provides for the appointment of Debt Conciliation Boards consisting of 3 to 5 members all nominated by the Government. A creditor or a debtor who wants the intervention of the Board may apply to it. Notice is sent to all the creditors and the debtor and they are brought face to face with each other. The Board persuades the parties to come to an amicable settlement. If the creditors to whom not less than 40 per cent of the debts are due and the debtor agree to a settlement that is recorded by the Board and registered, and it has got the same effect as the decree of a civil court, then it binds even those creditors who have not agreed. In case there is no settlement, the application is dismissed but the Board may issue a certificate stating who in its opinion is the unreasonable party. In case it is of opinion that a creditor is the unreasonable party he will not get the costs of his suit when he files one in the ordinary way for recovery of his money and from the date of such certificate he will get interest only at 6 per cent per annum.

The jurisdiction of the Board is in the first instance restricted to debtors whose debts aggregate to Rs. 25,000, but it is open to the Government to increase the jurisdiction of any Board in a particular area.

I have framed the Bill on the very same lines and I have adopted mostly the language of the Central Provinces Act. The few changes I have made are shown below:—

- (1) In section 2 (a) and (b) the definitions of 'landholder' and 'tenant' are given as appearing in the Madras Revenue Recovery Act and the Madras Estates Land Act, respectively.
- (2) In section 3 the period of membership of the members of the Debt Conciliation Board is extended to three years from one year.
- (3) In section 12 (1) in the Central Provinces Act, if the creditor to whom not less than 40 per cent of the total debts agree to a settlement that will be binding on the rest. I have raised this to 50 per cent.

- (4) In section 13 (2), I have made it clear that the interest should be charged on the principal due.
- (5) I have added a new clause after section 17 as section 17-A. This is to avoid trouble where the settlement has been only partially carried out. Even then, the alterations made will have to be saved; otherwise it will not be possible to carry out the settlement agreed at.
